Throngs Cheer Lindbergh at Belgian Capital

American Airman Lands at Brussels And Is Greeted By Excited Crowd —Congratulated By Belgian Premier—Inspects Machine Before Start.

Brussels, May 28 (AP).—Captain Charles Lindbergh, America's transatlantic aviator, landed at the Evere Airdrome, Brussels, from Paris at 3.15 p. m. this afternoon.

His shining monoplane, the "Spirit of St. Louis" was sighted by the great throngs on the field at 3:12 o'clock. It began swooping downward a moment later to land amid a great storm of cheers.

He was escorted from the Franco-Belgian border by two Belgian army planes. Trailing him were several other planes which had acted as an escort from Paris.

Lindbergh gave an airman's greeting to the Belgian Capital before landing. Swerving off his straight air route he circled above the city while the ten other planes that had come with him kept their formation above the flying field, waiting.

Soon he appeared. His silver ship shot through the center of the wide circle of the escorting planes and came to rest upon the field as gently as a bird.

The barriers were broken by the cheering and excited crowd, but the police succeeded in checking the rush as it seemed about to overwhelm the plane

Quickly restoring order, they enabled James C. Dunn, the American charge d'affaires, to be the first to grasp the aviator's hand before he stepped to earth.

Henri Jaspar, the Belgian premier, then seized both the flier's hands and congratulated him in the name of the government. Lindbergh entered an automobile and was driven to the reviewing stand while a military band played "The Star Spangled Banner."

The young American dare-devil left Le Bourget field at 12:49 p. m. to the roar of a great crowd of well-wishers. He was escorted by two squadrillas of the Thirty-fourth French Air Regiment which is quartered at Le Bourget.

Take Off Perfect.

Lindbergh's take off was perfect. He taxied rapidly northward across the smooth field and then, after a run of 150 yards, turned sharply into the air, mounting at an angle of nearly 45 degrees and heading south for Paris.

The escorting planes quickly followed, but remained circling over the field ready to pick him up when, after a short flight over the city, he headed north.

Lindbergh arrived at the air field at an early hour, went over his machine with scrupulous care and personally assisted in filling the fuel tanks. He was in a jovial mood, chatting and joking with the mechanicians who for two days had been going over the plane. He thanked them for their work, and then signed the visitor's book in field headquarters.

Takes No Chance.

It was apparent that, with all his reliance in his plane, Lindbergh was bolt and wire, giving most careful a kit of tools and tested every nut, bolt and wife, giving most careful attention to the motor itself. Meanwhile the crowd had begun gathering and by a little after 10 o'clock reached large proportions.

The preliminary examination over, Lindbergh shut himself into the hangar with two chief mechanicians and again went over the machine, this time with particular care as to the wings and body controls.

Ambassador Herrick, who has been Lindbergh's host during his stay in Paris; Mr. and Mrs. Parmely Herrick, the Ambassador's son and daughter-in-law, and Captain Lhopital, aide to Marshal Foch, arrived at the field in an Embassy car late in the morning. They were followed closely by Sheldon Whitehouse, counsellor of the Embassy, Mrs. Whitehouse and other notables.

The whole party was immediately admitted to the hangar, where they had their first really good look at the record breaking monoplane.

Work on the machine went smoothly, and shortly after eleven o'clock, Lindbergh stuck the tail of the monoplane through the hangar door, climbed into the cockpit and started the motor for its preliminary run. His quick smile told the spectators that everything was just as it should be.

Crowd Disappointed.

With memories of the tumultuous scenes of last Saturday night still fresh in their minds, the authorities were taking no chances on any one being hurt, and only those who had obtained permission beforehand were admitted to the field.

It was a big disappointment to many who had walked or cycled out to Le Bourget, and who found themselves jammed in the roadways or fields with little chance of seeing the plane until it was actually in the air. A strong force of Republican Guards, mounted and afoot, and scores of police were stationed everywhere to maintain order. Three lines of municipal guards were drawn up at the front gate, and a line of Republican guards kept the spectators at a respectful distance from the plane.

At the last moment it was learned that the escort planes would really be bombers, as Lindbergh desired to travel alone, just as he did on his momentous transatlantic hop.

Charge Against Perry Dismissed

Federal Dry Agents Make No Appearance Against Proprietor of Green Shingle Inn and Case Is Dismissed.

Frank Perry, proprietor of the Green Shingle Inn on the Saugerties road, who was arrested during a raid on the place staged May 10 by State Troopers, federal agents and the sheriff, was discharged when arraigned before U. S. Commissioner A. C. Connelly Friday, on a charge of possessing and selling liquors in violation of the prohibition law. An adjourned hearing scheduled for 11 o'clock was further adjourned until afternoon when the federal agents who made the charges and signed the complaint failed to appear. An effort to get in communication with them failed and Mr. Perry and his bartender, Harold Muranie, were discharged.

At the time of the raid which had been directed through the district attorney's office, Perry was also arrested on a charge of maintaining a disorderly house. That charge will be tried by the county court.

During the raid the federal agents investigated the Maxwell car of Perry which was in the yard and on finding it contained alleged liquor it was seized.

C. J. Flanagan appeared for the two defendants who were held at the first hearing under $1,000 bail for the adjourned date.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

(By The Associated Press.)

New York—Uncle Sam is to acquire John Bull. "Yes, sir, that's my real name," said an applicant at the naturalization bureau, and "I was born in Tipperary."

London—Prime Minister Baldwin objects to the characterization of women of 21 as flappers. Explaining to an audience of women, he said the silliness of the young was vastly less offensive than that of middle age or senility.

New York—Women's tongues are blamed for war by Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt. She has noted a peculiar tendency of women of all races to repeat in exaggerated form utterances of men which might make countries spring at each other's throats.

Mexico City—Women have equal civil rights with men now except suffrage. A government decree enables them to handle property in their own name and to litigate without their husband's consent.

Philadelphia—Mrs. Harrison K. Canera, society matron, is going on the professional stage. Her husband and two daughters will live with her in Denver, where she has a three months' engagement.

New York—Possibly the question whether toting ice or carrying the hod is better for football players might be decided next fall except that Hick Brady, unlike the star backs, Grange and Tyron plays end. Hick was on the Columbia varsity last fall and in spare time from studies now is earning $55 a week as a union bricklayer's helper.

Presbyterians Favor Dry Law

Board of Christian Education Says Failure is Due Largely to Fact That Prohibition as Written Has Never Been Tried.

San Francisco, May 28 (AP).—Prohibition enforcement as a duty of all Christian Americans is emphasized in the anual report of the Presbyterian Board of Christian Education to be presented to the Presbyterian General Assembly here Monday morning.

The board laments the death of Dr. Charles Scanlon of Pittsburgh, "for 25 years its temperance crusader", but declares that the church at large "must show its appreciation of his life work by continuing his campaign and being faithful to his ideals". Dr. J. W. Claudy of Pittsburgh is announced as acting director in Dr. Scanlon's place.

"During the last year," says the board in its report, "vast strides have been made in the enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment. In spite of renewed activities of the enemies of prohibition, it is more firmly intrenched today than ever before. There can be no doubt that the economic, social, moral and religious benefits that have resulted from prohibition are so gigantic that they will never be overcome by wet propaganda.

"If prohibition has been charged with failure it is due largely to the fact that prohibition as written has never been tried. The courts are showing constantly a more vigorous enforcement of the law. District attorneys are on every hand recognizing their responsibility The liquor traffic has gone and as a commercialized vice has disappeared permanently. If it exists here and there, it is due to the laxity of those charged with the responsibility of law enforcement The liquor traffic is more indefensible today than ever. It is more hopelessly outlawed. With the rising tide of intelligent youth there is no doubt that the safety of prohibition is assured."

The board recommends:

"Enforcing the Eighteenth Amendment through competent and trustworthy servants of the law.

"Supporting those intrusted with the enforcement of the act by Christian citizens.

"Making punishment swift, sure and certain.

"Divorcing the enforcement of the Prohibition Act from politics.

"Unless these ideals," says the report, "are supported by the Christian citizens of the community, the enforcement will always be lax. The task of tomorrow is to make law and law enforcement in America a fact."

Two More Towns In Path of Flood

New Iberia and Morgan City Will Be Under Water Tonight or Sunday—Flood Will Last Several More Weeks.

New Orleans, May 28 (AP).—Man and river today were preparing for what was believed to be the last great battle of the flood area as the waters of the Atchafalaya and the Tensas basin moved down on New Iberia and Morgan City. Already these towns of 6,000 and 5,000 population, respectively, have been partially inundated, and with the water rising an inch an hour it was believed that both would be totally under water by tonight or tomorrow.

Morgan City, about 100 miles west of New Orleans, is at the mouth of the Atchafalaya where the mass of water sweeping relentlessly down the narrow Atchafalaya basin must empty into the Gulf of Mexico. A few miles above Morgan City the Atchafalaya empties into Grand Lake, and residents of the lake region have been forced to flee their homes as the flood waters swept the shores of the lake.

The river then flows out of the lake again to run for about 15 miles through fertile country before it pours its muddy flood into the gulf.

The crest of the flood in the Atchafalaya basin was believed to be in the Breaux Bridge section, many miles up the river from Morgan City and still above LaFayette, where the largest refuge camp of the section is located. But the first brush with the irresistible force of the river already has been fought out at its mouth and the waters have been victorious The flood probably will last several weeks more before the crest passes into the sea.

Yesterday officials at Baton Rouge estimated that only about ten per cent of the populace driven from their homes found their way to the refuge camps, the others they said, were cared for in private homes.

Oppose Sunday as Amusement Day

Church People Becoming More Careless In Their Attitude Toward the Day, Says Presbyterian Board Which Urges Sabbath Observance.

San Francisco, May 28 (AP)—Loss of the American Christian Sabbath is seriously threatened, declares the annual report of the Presbyterian Board of Christian Education to be presented to the General Assembly Monday morning.

Church people, rebuked for their listlessness, are challenged to awaken to the peril and combat the movement to commercialize Sunday into "Amusement Day". The board reports that its representatives have appeared during the past year before legislative committees where the Sabbath question was pending. Special attention was given to the bill before congress to secure a Sabbath law for the District of Columbia.

Communications were sent to Presbyterian pastors and co-workers in states where legislation regarding the Sabbath day was pending, urging upon them the importance of making their wishes regarding these bills known to the legislators or congressmen.

"As a result," says the board, "much legislation that would have been passed in favor of commercialized amusement was effectively and completely killed. While the bill before congress to secure a Sunday law for the District of Columbia did not pass, the sub-judiciary of the committee on the District of Columbia which conducted hearings on the bill reported it for favorable consideration by a vote of 4 to 1.

"The legislative work of the board's bureau is important for maintaining and strengthening the legal safeguards of the Sabbath; also the legislative issues are the vehicle whereby the educational work in behalf of the Sabbath Day can be carried forward effectively. This bureau has cooperated with existing organizations laboring in behalf of Sabbath observance, especially with the Lord's Day Alliance.

Year's Work Falls Short.

"Although the work of the past year has greatly exceeded that of the preceding year," the board admits, "it has come far sort of measuring up to the demands of the situation. Powerful and well-organized forces are in the field today to destroy the Sabbath. The commercialized forces are in the field today to destroy the Sabbath. The commercialized amusement interests are ceaselessly active in their efforts to break down our Sabbath laws and the sentiment against Sunday amusements that they make the Lord's Day 'Amusement Day' in America.

"Many of our church people are becoming more careless in their attitude toward the day, and many church leaders seem to be unaware of the peril we are facing from increasing Sabbath desecration.

"The campaign for Sabbath observance," concludes the board, "authorized by the General Assembly last year should be carried forward with increasing vigor throughout the coming year."

Oil Well Flame Is Extinguished

Explosives Are Used In "Snuffing Out" Huge Wall Flame—Owners Skid Buildings From The Uninhabitable Fire Zone.

Sanford, Tex., May 28 (AP).—A blackened crater from which gas hissed at the rate of a million cubic feet a day, was all that remained today of the "Pan Handle lamp" created at a cost of eight lives when a huge well on Main street here ignited Thursday.

The 200-foot flame that raged for more than 40 hours to threaten this oil boom town was "snuffed out" last night with high explosives and a barrage of steam. The roaring torch was extinguished in almost as spectacular a display as marked the ignition of the well while the crew was attempting to remove the casing to test for oil.

Under the direction of "Tex" Thornton, expert in the use of nitroglycerin and other explosives employed by well shooters, a battery of boilers was massed near the well to furnish steam. While the boilers were moved as close as the heat would permit, Thornton used a fireproof suit to make several inspections. Once he peered into a hole around the casing in an effort to locate the bodies of two men believed to have been cremated

Meanwhile, owners of nearby houses obtained cables and tractors and skidded their buildings from the zone made uninhabitable by the terrific heat. Others struck their tent homes or poured their limited water supply on frame shacks scorched as the wind fanned the flame toward various sections of the village.

With upwards of 10,000 persons assembled to witness the "snuffing out" process Thornton donned his fireproof clothing last night and carried a charge of explosive to the base of the flame. He hastily placed it and ran to an electrical device to explode it. The blast cut the flame for an instant, then it leaped skyward again. Several persons were knocked down by the concussion and windshields on a few automobiles were shattered.

Thornton announced the first charge was merely to cut off the casing on a level with the ground. He then placed a second and large charge while engineers manned the steam lines.

With the flash of the blast, the steam barrage centered on the mouth of the well. The flame sputtered and vanished. Numerous spectators were hurled to the ground and windows in many buildings were broken. No one was injured.

Boy Carried Over Falls in Canoe Still Missing

Searchers for Body of Victor Zurer Unable to Approach Close to Eddyville Falls on Account of Strong Current—How Tragedy Occurred.

The body of Victor Zurer, twenty-one year old New York University student, who was carried over the Eddyville falls in a canoe on Friday morning, is still missing although a search is being carried on by State Troopers and fishermen in the vicinity.

Owing to the tremendous current at the falls it is impossible to get near them by boat, and for that reason it will not be possible to locate the body if it is still held in the backwash at the dam until the waters subside, unless the current carries the body down stream of the Rondout creek.

Zurer's parents were notified of the tragedy and came up from New York city on Friday, and are using every effort to have the body of their missing son located. From their story as told to a reporter of The Freeman when they called at The Freeman office this morning their son was one of a party of six young men who had gone out canoeing Friday morning. They were out in three canoes, two boys to a canoe. Zurer's canoe was leading and when within a short distance of the falls the canoe was suddenly caught in the grip of the strong current and swept onward toward the falls. Zurer's companion saw the danger and leaped overboard, managing to breast the current safely and reach the shore. The four other boys in the two other canoes also plunged overboard and swam to shore safely.

Evidently young Zurer did not realize the danger until too late and before he could leap the canoe was swept over the falls. That was the last seen of the missing youth.

Young Zurer would have been graduated this year from the university, his parents said, and desiring to earn money during the summer months he had gone to Greenkill Park as a waiter.

SITUATION IN TIENTSIN IS GROWING WORSE.

London, May 28 (AP)—Americans in the Tientsin consular district, embracing Peking and Chihli, Shansi and Honan provinces, the Shanghai correspondent of the Daily Express says, have been notified to be ready to concentrate at Tientsin at a moment's notice. They number 2,000, including women and children.

Anxiety over the situation is reported by the correspondent to be growing, due to the fact that the Chinese Nationalists are employing strong forces of armed civilians in Chihli and Shantung, who may any day seize the larger northern cities. The British, he adds, are contemplating sending an infantry brigade to Tientsin, where the Japanese are showing great anxiety and have ordered all Japanese women and children in Shantung to go to Tsingtao. The American authorities have not yet taken any defense action, he says, but are watching the situation carefully.

Otis Harlan

The decadence of the spoken drama can find its reason largely in Hollywood, Calif., for Hollywood contains the names of many who have been lured away from the legitimate stage to that of the celluloidal. Among these there is none more prominent that Otis Harlan, who for thirty-three years was on the spoken stage, but who for the past seven years has cast his lot and his talents with the silent drama. Harlan made his debut in Hoyt's "A Hole-in-the-Ground" in 1887 and was a star with the Charles Hoyt comedies until 1898. Then followed other important engagements. He cast his lot with the screen in 1919 and has appeared in many notable pictures, the latest being "Abraham Lincoln," "Lightnin'" and "Three Bad Men." He has just finished "In Old Heidelberg" and at present is playing a stellar part in "Eternal Silence."

WHEN I WAS TWENTY-ONE

BY JOSEPH KAYE

At 21: Senator Hiram Johnson was leading an uneventful life.

"AT THAT time I was practicing law in Sacramento. I spent my days at my desk or at the courts, and when I got through work in the afternoon I went home and stayed until it was time to go to work again next morning.

"My real life began when I was given an opportunity to quit working for myself and began working for the people of the state.—Hiram Johnson."

TODAY: Senator Johnson has been given the opportunity to work not only for the people of his native state, but for the people of the United States. He is one of our most famous and virile political leaders.

Johnson achieved his first celebrity when he moved out from the comparative confines of Sacramento to the greater spaces of San Francisco and was retained there as counsel for a group of citizens to prosecute graft scandals in the city. The case involved most city officials and many public utility corporations and Johnson secured the convictions he was after.

DAILY RADIO PROGRAM

Tuesday, May 31.

Acceding to popular demand, the Eveready Hour for this Tuesday will be devoted to a group of songs and musical numbers which have been among the "high spots" of this entire series during the past broadcasts by WEAF and other stations of the Red Network. "Jasbo Brown" and Gershwin's "Rhapsody in Blue" will be among the universal favorites given. The Berry Carson Trio from Springfield will entertain from WBZ. The Shenandoah Male Chorus, considered one of the finest musical units of the east, and composed almost entirely of Welsh miners from the coal fields of Pennsylvania, will present a unique program from stations WIP and WGBS. Vivian, will be escorted to the movies this week by Jim. Her "Listen In With Cupid" experiences will be radiated by WEAF and other Red Network stations.

Wave lengths in meters on left of station title, kilocycles on the right. Times are Eastern Daylight Saving and Eastern Standard. Black type indicates best features.

The Freeman will not be published on Monday, Memorial Day.

An American Romeo who climbed up to put flowers in his Juliet's window was mistaken for a burglar and shot by the damsel's father. This has provoked the lament that romance is dead, but the only certain evidence is that there are burglars aplenty and that in consequence a wakeful father may be too quick on the trigger.

Iowa has more radios, more telephones and more automobiles than any other farm State, and the explanation, according to the Des Moines Register, is that Iowa's gross farm income last year was no less than $719,000,000, a gain of sixty millions over 1925. This is the more interesting because of the insistent claim that Federal help is needed by Western States (including Iowa) to save agriculture from ruin.

After the great Chicago fire England, then very prosperous, contributed generously to the relief fund, but we now read that several leading newspapers have declined to start relief funds for the Mississippi sufferers. There are just two reasons for such an attitude: Over-taxed England is hard-pushed in these times and has the problem of a million unemployed on its hands. On the other hand, the United States, rich and prosperous, is well able to take care of its own sufferers. It is true that there is no appropriation by Congress, as there ought to be, but the English have good reason for believing that this country needs no outside help.

REMEMBRANCE AND FORESIGHT.

"Memorial Day—a day appointed for commemorating the dead soldiers and sailors of the Civil War." So says the dictionary.

On this day flowers and flags are placed on every known grave of America's soldier dead, Spanish and World War heroes, now, as well as those of the Civil War. On this day surviving veterans march in parades honoring their departed comrades, and public officials make speeches gratefully recognizing their wartime service.

It is well to honor the nation's war dead. In obedience to their country's command they gave their lives, without waiting to argue or question whether there might be other ways to solve the problems than killing and dying. As long as no other way is found and practiced, soldiers will have to give their lives so. The tragedy of their deaths is the fact that so often the problems remain unsolved, the ideals they believed in remain unattained, the glory of their sacrifices is dimmed by the failure of peace.

If Memorial Day exercises are devoted solely to contemplating the past and remarking only the glory of dying on a battlefield, they fail greatly in their purpose of honoring the dead. It would be a greater and truer tribute of respect and gratitude to make those exercises turn thought and action toward better ways to right wrongs and preserve honor. All of those decorated graves all over the country and in France should spur us on to a stronger determination not to add to their numbers by future wars.

BUSINESS IN FARMING.

Almost any locality can make its own place in national or international life. Petaluma, California, did it with White Leghorn hens. Tillamook, Oregon, did it with cheese. Jericho, Utah, does it with the great Jericho wool pool, that sells only top wool in one prize sale. Idaho Falls, Idaho, does it with potatoes. Wenatchee, Washington, apples are internationally famous, and so on through a long specialized list.

In every case the profits result from high grade uniformity. The producers do not trust to luck, or to individual idiosyncracies; they agree on a standard, and enforce it. The "independence" of the farmer becomes a myth in every one of these high priced specialty products; independence, that is, to produce freak stuff by freak methods. But they become independently rich; which is better than more license to do foolish things in a foolish way.

A grain company that was urged to buy in one of the most fertile sections of the Mountain West, refused to buy grain there. "We want standard grains," it said, "and no two of you raise the same kind of stuff. Your wheat is mongrel; your oats are all the way from white or red, to black; your barley is piebald and will not grade in any market. We'll go out of business before we'll buy in such a district."

The adoption of a high standard product, and the cumulative aid of every affiliated grower to keep up the standard and make the supply adequate to fill the market every year, is one sure way out of the agricultural doldrums. Hudson Valley fruitgrowers read, ponder and act.

ANOTHER TEST FOR INFECTION.

For a long time the use of the clinical thermometer has been used to determine whether or not there is infection in the body. A very low temperature in the morning and a high one at night that is more than two or three degrees difference between the morning and evening temperature, looks suspicious.

Another test is what is known as the white corpuscle count in the blood. As you know if the white corpuscles increase greatly in numbers, it is because they are needed by the system to fight some infection.

Another test is the metabolism test which is measuring the amount of work the body is doing when it is just performing its regular every day functions, with the body at complete rest, and with no digestion going on.

If the amount of work being done is more than should be necessary for the size and build of that particular body, then infection is suspected.

Notwithstanding the above three tests it is often advisable, and sometimes very convenient to take another test, and this as I mentioned before, is called the sedimentation test.

Two Chicago physicians, Drs. Baer and Reis, have been working on this for some time and now give their report on 325 cases, which confirms the claims some time ago.

This test is done by drawing off a small quantity of blood into a vessel, and measuring the time it takes for the red corpuscles in the blood to sink to the bottom of the vessel.

If there is much infection the red corpuscles soon begin to sink, being all down in less than an hour.

If the infection is not severe it may take up to two hours for corpuscles to sink.

If it takes more than two hours, it is felt that there is no infection whatever.

Why is this knowledge valuable?

Where the infection is one that requires an operation, this sedimentation test enables the surgeon to decide when to operate.

If the operation does not have to be done immediately he can decide that it is safe to wait a little while until the sedimentation time is a little longer, the infection being less acute. They state that "sixty" minutes is the lower limit of safety."

If there is some severe pus condition, the sedimentation time would be perhaps less than half an hour, and immediate operation would be indicated. This test then gives one more aid to the physician or surgeon and helps him to work with more safety.

Movable Dining Rooms

The dining room is modern. It would seem impossible nowadays to get along without a dining room in our apartments or homes, where every room has quite a definite designation. The dining room, as we know it nowadays, became the fashion only during the Seventeenth and more generally during the Eighteenth century. Before, people put up a table in a bedroom when no guests came or, on a festival day, in the parlor, or, for the noblemen, in the big hall of the castle. Many people of the lower classes used to eat always in the kitchen.

"Stone of Scone"

Scone is a village in Perthshire, Scotland. The stone is the stone on which the kings of Scotland were crowned. According to tradition, it is the same as "Jacob's Pillow." Edward I of England carried the stone from Scotland to England, where it was placed in Westminster abbey.

A CASE WHERE YOU LOSE IF YOU WIN

By W. R. MOREHOUSE

Public Relations Commission, American Bankers Association

(This is one of a series of articles exposing the wiles of sharpers who are after your money.)

W. R. MOREHOUSE

EVERY person who takes part in one of the many fake real estate raffles that are going on wins because there are no losers, regardless of the numbers they hold. The numbers, in fact, are only the bait to entice people into the scheme. The raffles are what might be termed "come-on" traps to catch investors. If you have ever tried your luck with a real estate raffle you doubtless felt like giving three cheers when advised that you had won, not knowing that in winning you had taken your first step toward being caught in the trap. You were momentarily overcome with joy over your success which looked to you like the "luck of a lifetime."

Puffed over your good fortune, you hastened out to inspect your newly acquired piece of property. A high-pressure salesman representing the syndicate that was "giving" you the lot walked by your side. After a tiresome trip through an undesirable district the salesman pointed out your new real estate holdings,—a narrow, shallow lot, unimproved, uneven, and with no conveniences such as water, sewer, gas and electricity. Not even graded streets or sidewalks. Not worth its taxes!

Before you were fully awake to the fact that you had been tricked your attention was directed away from the unattractive landscape before you to another picture. You were shown another lot, ideal in its location with all modern conveniences soon to be installed, and told that if the lot you drew in the raffle was not entirely satisfactory you would be allowed a credit of $250 for it on one of the more desirable lots being sold "to a few selected people as a special inducement and for a short time only," at the bed-rock price of $950. You were urged to take advantage of your further good fortune at being thus selected and to seize the chance to buy one of these specially priced lots.

"I've won a building lot."

"Think of it!" exclaimed the high-pressure salesman. "It will take only $700 cash as we are willing to allow you a credit of $250!"

Where You Begin to Lose

Perhaps, as you stood there, you began to suspect that other "winners" had come to view the same lot you had won. If you reached the conclusion that it was being repeatedly used as "bait" you were right. You realized that after all there is nothing free about so-called free things. But others, unfortunately less suspicious than you, would be impressed by the glowing statements of the high-pressure salesman as to the value of the $950 lot and his assurance that it must double and treble in value, and would pay over the additional $700—to secure lots worth less than half the price they paid for them! The few who would insist on receiving title to the lot won in the fake raffle would soon be silenced by the statement that it would be delivered to them upon payment of certain expenses in connection with the transfer, which, however, would exceed the actual value of the prize lot.

There is nothing to be gained in participating in fake real estate raffles. There are plenty of legitimate sales. Raffles usually are only bait used to trap you. Of course, you win, but in winning you lose if you go through with it. Before drawing your money out of your savings account to go into a real estate scheme consult your banker or a Better Business Bureau to find out whether it is a bona fide plan. Spend time to save money!

First Reformed Church, the Rev. Lucas Boeve, D. D., minister. This being memorial Sunday, Dr. Boeve will speak upon the subject, "Looking Beyond Our National Hedge." The question is, Is there such an ideal of internationalism that is complete with nationalism. The hymns, the instrumental and choral music will all be patriotic in character. Wiltwyck Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, will attend the service in a body. Immediately after the morning service a short out-door service will be held before the entrance of the church. This is following a long established custom of the D. A. R. There will be a patriotic hymn, and a few remarks by Dr. Boeve. This service should close by 12 o'clock. "Charles Lindbergh—What Was His Greatest Triumph?" is the subject of the children's story. The Bible school meets at 12 o'clock C. E. at 6:45. Evening service at 7:30. The evening service will be largely musical. W. W. Frodenburgh will give a recital following a brief address on "The Glory of the Ordinary." At the conclusion of the recital the choir will sing "List to the Lark," by Clarence Dickinson. All people not worshipping elsewhere are cordially invited.

Special music will be given at the First Reformed Church on Sunday evening when W. Whiting Frodenburgh, organist of the church will play a short recital at the close of the service. Following is the program for the service and recital:

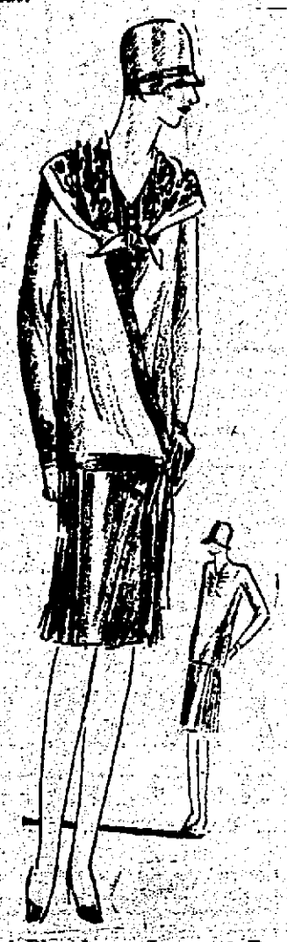
ELEANOR GUNN ON FASHIONS

FOX SCARFS HAVE RETURNED TO FAVOR, BUT SHOULD NOT SUPPLANT THE SILK BANDANNA FOR SPORTS WEAR — BROKEN PLAIDS ARE ADVISABLE

New York.—A fox scarf is almost essential to one's happiness this spring. Furs continue, even though they are not necessary to comfort, and practically every coat that has not been designed to be worn with an animal scarf has some sort of a fur collar or edging. Silver, cross, and pointed fox lead in animal scarfs, with beige fox next in demand.

It is elegant, as we know, to wear two scarfs, linking them together, so that one presents a very luxurious figure. Those who for reasons of economy, or because it is their preference, prefer a silk scarf, show partiality for plaid taffetas, in broken designs and degrade colorings. Blue or gray with black is typical, but brighter effects are used for sports wear.



A Blue Jersey Jacquette, Bound in Silk Crepe to Match the Two-Piece Frock, Makes an Attractive Costume with Its Silk Blocked Kerchief in White and Blue. The Radiating Tucking of the Blouse Surrounds Fabric Incrustations Bound in White.

Since bows have become so important, slender-throated women will find it effective to bow the scarf at the back or to one side of the chin, or, if this proves too bulky, to compromise with a knot with smartly-pointed ends. For country wear, silk bandannas are in far better taste than animal scarfs.

It seems that American women are inclined to be prejudiced against plaids. One sees them more than formerly, it is true, yet to nothing like the extent that they were worn abroad. Plaid taffeta one- and two-piece sports dresses are exceedingly effective on slender figures, and are often pleated and belted in colored kid. Plaid top-coats rank second—in this country, at least—to checked ones, possibly because they are generally more flattering.

HIGH WOODS.

High Woods, May 28.—Mrs. Nelson Short, Mrs. Carroll Kimble, Mrs. Frank Short, Mrs. Percy Short and daughter, Jane Elizabeth of Saugerties spent Thursday with Mrs. Alex Felten.

The Sunday school convention at Mt. Marion was attended by some from this place.

Willard Braby spent the week end with his parents, returning to Mt. Vernon Sunday.

William Dutton of Brooklyn is spending some time with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Seth Whitely.

Mrs. Elizabeth Braby was at her brother's, B. S. Myer's Sunday afternoon. Mr. Myer has an infected eye which all hope may not be serious.

The Rev. Edward Ton gave two excellent sermons Sunday from Luke 23:26, and Acts 16:27, 28. Several from Mt. Marion attended the evening service. All were glad to greet them. The Rev. Mr. Ton was a guest of Richard G. Short.

Mrs. Anna C. Snyder and Mary J. Carle were guests at Winfield R. Snyder's Sunday afternoon.

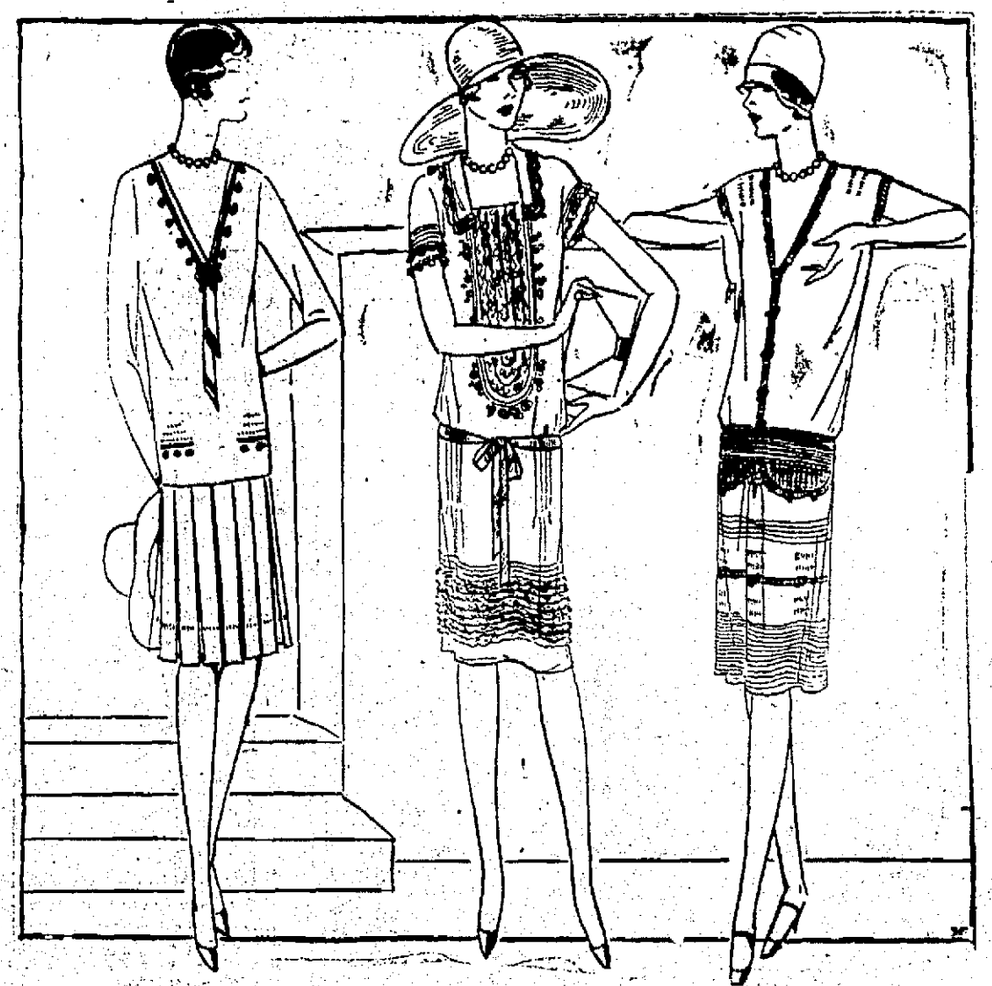
ELEANOR GUNN On Fashions



Left—A Two Piece Frock of Handkerchief Linen Has a V-Neckline Bordered in Peach Linen and Colored Embroidery. Hemstitching Designates the Pockets and Marks the Hem.

Center—A Ruffy Type of Short-Sleeved Blue Voile Dress Has a Border Composed of Rows of Lace and Pink Hemstitching. A Similar Idea is Carried Out for the Vestee.

Right—Coral Voile Bands Are Inset Between Rows of Hemstitching on a Frock of Peach Colored Voile. The Short Sleeves, Tucked Treatments, and Embroidered Motifs Are Notable Features.

Printed Frocks May Again Be of Linen or Cotton, for the Great Houses of Paris Have Looked Upon Printed Linen and Found It Good.

New York—The endorsement of linen by several of the most important Paris houses has caused no small flurry here. Women have almost forgotten the refreshing coolness of the linen gown. Silks—crepes, mostly—have made everything one wore throughout the dog days. One bought them at a price that was as low as, if not lower than, even cotton, and became converted to the idea of their elegance.

Not since ginghams became an economy measure by name and a fashion in fact have cottons been noted in smart places, but now come all sorts of rumors of cool and dainty linen and cotton frocks for the summer. Lanvin aroused enthusiasm by her charming intepretations of the period frocks in organdy, although organdy has not been of great moment in this country for some time.

Printed linens have stimulated interest because of the exceedingly attractive colors and designs in which they are to be purchased, and also because they are a departure from well-worn paths. Lacking a style appeal, a material naturally gets nowhere, but given charm of design, or something that links it to the current mode, women have no prejudices.

There are many prints, silks, crepes, and rayons now being shown. There is a general expectation that every wardrobe will include at least one printed dress for warm weather, a dress that will be enhanced in elegance by a coat fashioned of one of the colors appearing in the print. The general tendency seems to be toward small designs, and to soft colors and softer lines achieved by pleated frills, jabots, side draperies, and tiers.

Magnetic Poles

The bureau of standards says that if a ring of ferromagnetic material is magnetized by means of a toroidal coil wound upon it, and if the material is uniform in magnetic properties throughout, there will be no magnetic poles. If magnetized in a solenoid or between the poles of an electromagnet, the poles will be at opposite ends of a diameter.

SOMETHING TO EAT

When you are tired of the ordinary ways of serving chicken prepare it as follows:

Chicken Warmein.—Take a nice fat fowl and clean well, then put to cook in plenty of water, for the broth is important. When well cooked, remove the fowl and take the meat from the bones; they may then be returned to the broth and simmered longer; strain and cook two bunches of celery, cut into small pieces until it is tender, then remove the celery and cook noodles in the broth. Serve the minced seasoned chicken in a nest of noodles and celery.

Chicken With Macaroni.—Take cooked leftover chicken and mix with an equal amount of cooked macaroni, add white sauce and put in layers in a greased baking pan. Cover with buttered crumbs and bake until thoroughly hot. Serve from the dish.

Cinnamon Cream Tarts.—These are nice to serve with afternoon tea. Beat a teaspoonful of butter with one-half cupful of powdered sugar and half a teaspoonful of cinnamon. Place a half dozen split crackers hollow side up in a baking pan, drop a spoonful of this mixture on each and bake in a hot oven five minutes.

Queen of Doughnuts.—Beat together two eggs, add one and two-thirds cupfuls of sugar and beat until the sugar is dissolved, add one-half teaspoonful of salt, one and one-fourth cupfuls of sour milk, one-fourth cupful of sour cream, a teaspoonful each of soda and nutmeg and as little flour as possible to mix well. Set out to chill until very cold, then roll out a small portion at a time, adding as little flour as possible to handle. When cold shake in a paper bag with a tablespoonful of powdered sugar, a cake at a time.

Salmon With Riced Potato.—Heap boned salmon from the can, after removing skin and bones, in the center of a hot platter. Place in the oven in a dripping pan of water and riced, seasoned potatoes. Heap the riced potatoes around the fish and around the potato pour a rich white sauce. Serve very hot.

"Nordic Theory" Based on Race Superiority

The word "Nordic" is derived from "nord," Scandinavian for north. It was applied by Joseph Deniker, the French anthropologist, to a race of tall, blond people who once inhabited Scandinavia, Scotland and northern England. The ancient Goths, for instance, were Nordics. They are supposed to have been the most highly developed branch of the white race and differed more from the yellow, brown, red and black races than did any other branch of the white race. Some scholars believe that traces of the original Nordic language survive in such English words as "wife" and "house," which are not found in Indo-European languages outside the Germanic group. Popularly the word "Nordic" has been extended to all the Germanic or Teutonic peoples. According to the so-called Nordic theory, people of Nordic descent are superior biologically to all other races.—Pathfinder Magazine.

Queen of Flowers

If asked to name the queen of flowers, the average person would probably vote for the rose. The botanist, however, would do no such thing.

To the botanist the stamens and pistils are the real flower. The petals are only the flower's clothes, and the make-up of the rose and all her family shows an early stage in flower development.

The real queen of the flowers is the daisy. In the daisy the botanist finds the stages of development of all the other flowers in the seedman's catalogue. There are about 250 flowers in or florets on each daisy. Even the white or pink-tipped rays are not petals but whole flowers, and the yellow boss of the shield consists of many other perfect little flowers, each making seed.

Carrots Excellent Food

The saying "carrots will make you beautiful" is indirectly true because they are an excellent source of mineral matter used in regulating body processes and building tissues. They are especially rich in calcium and a good source of at least three vitamines.—Exchange.

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

MARY GRAHAM BONNER

THE CHIPMUNKS' FORTS

"I am going to tell you," said Daddy, "a winter-time story, and maybe that will make us feel cooler on such a hot, hot summer night."

"Well, that's an idea," said Nick.

"Yes, it's that much any way," said Daddy.

"I think the thought of snow and ice is a quite cool, pleasant one," said Nancy.

"All right, then we're all agreed about the winter story.

"The gray squirrels had built a snow fort—of course this was last winter!

"It had all the fortifications of a real fort. It was beautifully banked all the way around, and there was a low, secret tunnel through the snow, by which the squirrels could enter without being seen.

"In the center of the fort there were plenty of fine, round snowballs in readiness for a battle which they hoped would take place any moment, and there were holes in the fort so they could see their enemy.

"Now all they wanted was the enemy. And soon the chipmunks, upon seeing the snow fort of the gray squirrels, determined they would build one also, and so they set to work.

"This was just what the gray squirrels wanted, and they were delighted watching the chipmunks' snow fort being built.

"The gray squirrels tried to watch and see where the chipmunks would build their secret tunnel.

"The chipmunks were very careful not to let the gray squirrels find out.

"When the fort was built the gray

They Set to Work.

squirrels hadn't the faintest idea where the tunnel could be.

"The gray squirrels sent their general, who was a big, fat squirrel, over to the chipmunks' fort.

"He carried a snowball on a stick, which meant a flag of peace until the real battle was declared.

"'I've come to see,' said the gray squirrel general in a loud, sharp voice, 'if you'd like to fight.'

"A fat chipmunk, who was their general, looked out of one of the holes and said:

"'We'd love to fight.'

"As the gray squirrel general was about to leave the chipmunk called after him:

"'What will we fight about?'

"'Oh, we'll fight about land,' said the gray squirrel. 'If you win you'll own our fort, and if we win we'll own yours.'

"The gray squirrel general returned to his fort to say that war was declared, and they were all so glad to hear the good news that they squeaked with delight.

"At three the battle commenced. Such a furious battle as it was!

"The snowballs went back and forth from one fort to the other, and such screaming and excitement you never did hear.

"For over an hour the battle raged, and as neither side seemed to be getting much ahead they climbed on top of their forts and threw the snowballs from there.

"But neither fort was strong enough to hold so many squirrels and chipmunks, and the forts fell down, and as the snowballs had melted down into nothingness the battle had to be called off.

"But they agreed to have another battle as soon as they had time to rebuild their forts, for they thought snow battles were the greatest fun in the world."

Add Kiddyisms

Little Marjorie was in an antique shop with her mother.

"See the beautiful picture on this bowl," said the kind lady clerk.

"Will it come off?" inquired Marjorie.

"Oh, no. It is hand-painted," explained the lady.

"Well, sister's face is hand-painted—and it comes off."

Twins With a Spare

Bobby was out taking a walk one day when he came across triplets in a baby carriage. Running back to his mother he shouted: "Oh, mother, come quick and see the twins with a spare."

Homesick for the Stork

Charles' tiny new sister spent much of her time crying. Standing by her bassinet watching her one morning, he said: "Do you 'spose she has the headache, or is homesick for the stork?"

"Cherub" Had Own Idea of Grandpa's Thoughts

A young mother paid a visit to the cemetery to lay a small floral offering upon the grave of her father-in-law. She took with her on this occasion her four-year-old son, who is angelic of countenance but never misses a trick, and registers everything he hears, including swear words.

Passing another family plot where the resting place of a leading citizen was entirely covered with fresh blossoms, the four-year-old demanded to know who it was.

"Why, that is Jack's grandpa," answered the mother.

The small boy waited a moment and then asked: "Do you know what my grandpa would say if he came back?"

"Why, yes," was the cautious response of the young mother, but inwardly quaking. "He would say, 'How is my little grandson today?'"

The golden-haired cherub looking his mother in the eye, replied: "No, mother, grandpa would say, 'Where in —— are all MY flowers?"—Los Angeles Times.

Starved Bears Troublesome

Because of the pangs of hunger, the bears of Alaska have become so bold this winter that signal corps men operating the extensive telegraph and radio system at isolated stations in the Arctic region have found it necessary to maintain special guards to protect their food supplies from the attacks of these half-starved animals. They are reported to be very numerous this season and so regular in their travels in search of food that they have made regular trails between military stations, similar to those in the Far West in the days of the pioneers.

Quarries Long in Use

The sandstone or Virginia freestone, used in building the White House, the capitol, the patent office and the Lee mansion at Arlington came from the Aquia Creek quarries, about 40 miles below Washington. These quarries were opened in 1685, and still furnish sandstone for many important buildings.

Source of Income Gone

Chestnut trees which covered the Connecticut hillsides, once a source of income to the farmer, are all gone, and with them went the native supply of poles for carrying telephone and telegraph wires.

Until you ride in the Hudson Super-Six there is a motoring thrill you can never know.
You see Hudsons everywhere. You admire their striking beauty. You note their flashing performance. And you see in them the greatest values motordom has ever offered.
In appearance, beauty of detail and finish, and in performance, you compare Hudson with cars costing twice as much. Make it stand out in your mind that Hudson's price is hundreds of dollars below any car with which it is compared.
Take advantage of this special demonstration opportunity. Ride in the New Hudson Super-Six even if you have no immediate intention of getting a new car.

Europe Stands at Parting of Ways

Presbyterian General Assembly Not to Consider Europe as Foreign Mission Field for Establishing New Churches, But to Help Those Now There.

San Francisco, May 28 (AP)—The Presbyterian General Assembly will be told that organized Christianity in Europe stands at the parting of the ways, when the Board of Foreign Missions has its annual day of review next week.

"One way leads to defeat, despair, bankruptcy and ruin, while the other leads to cooperation, reconstruction, progress and victory," it will be told.

"The course which will be followed," in the opinion of the Presbyterian board, "will depend in large measure upon the sympathy and support which is accorded by Christians of other lands. The outstanding churchmen of Europe are anxious to lead the church out into new paths of service and influence. The church life of Europe is fluid as it has not been for some time past. We are not asked simply to restore the Protestant churches of Europe to the position they occupied before the war. We are asked rather to help them to go forward and to make Christianity more vitally present in the life of individuals and nations than has ever been the case before. Aside from our own country, there is no part of the world where a strong, aggressive, virile church is so urgently needed as it is on the continent of Europe.

"And yet," the report of the board will say, "the churches in many places are still staggering from the effects of the war and the consequent economic disturbances."

The report includes:

"Europe is not considered by the Presbyterian Church as a foreign missionary field. We are not interested in establishing new churches, but in aiding the native evangelical churches so that they may be able to recover from the devastating effects of the war and go forward with an aggressive program suited to the needs of the hour."

Surprised Mother

Kelvern Krause is a ten-year-old boy who attends school. At a parent-teacher association meeting the other day the statement was made by a speaker that at a test in some schools 70 per cent of the pupils asserted they would keep the money if a street car conductor failed to relieve them of their fare.

When his mother arrived home from attending this meeting she put the question to him as to what he would do if the street car conductor failed to take his fare. He knew nothing of what had been said at the meeting. His reply was that he would give the conductor his fare.

The mother said to him in a somewhat surprised tone: "You would? Why?"

"Don't you think it takes money to make the electricity that runs those cars?" was the retort.—Indianapolis News.

The Ulster County Gospel Crusaders will hold their regular Sunday afternoon meeting in the Auditorium Theatre at 2:45 o'clock. Henry Bartsch has charge of this service and he has engaged Evangelist L. C. Robie and party for the rendering of the message.

These Sunday afternoon meetings are becoming quite popular and last Sunday all who attended appreciated the service as conducted by Brother Moore.

Evangelist Robie will bring a stage director with him from Auburn as well as Mr. Perkins, the pianist.

The Crusade meetings are open to all and a cordial welcome awaits everyone. A goodly number is expected to attend Sunday as Evangelist Robie is well known in this section.

A farmer was told by his doctor to count sheep jumping over a fence in an effort to cure insomnia.

The next day the farmer came back and said:

"It didn't work, doctor. I counted enough to pay off the mortgage, and got so mad because they were not real that I stayed awake all night."

"My plate is damp," complained a traveling man who was dining in a hotel.

"Hush," whispered his wife. "That's your soup."

"Why," said Smith, "you don't know what hard luck is. I have always had it. When I was a kid there were so many of us in the family that there had to be three tables at meal times, and I always sat at the third one."

"What's hard about that?" asked his friend.

"Why," replied Smith, "it was 15 years before I knew a chicken had anything but a neck."

Calendar Curiosities

The calendar offers certain curiosities which are little known. No century can commence on a Wednesday, Friday or Saturday. The month of October commences always on the same day of the week as the month of January; February, March, and November commence on the same day of the week. May, June and August commence on different days. These rules do not apply to leap years. The ordinary year always finishes on the same day of the week as it commenced.

Information

Mother was asking her son about the fine points of hockey. Question after question she asked him, and he answered glibly, for, like all youths, he was well versed in sports at least. The small youngster was listening round-eyed to all these questions. Finally she said in amazement: "Why do you ask brother all these questions? You're older than he is and you must know more than he does. 'Sides I thought you knew everything anyway."—Springfield Union.

Use Sense For Sciatica

C. C. FROUDE.

Sciatica is a nerve affection. It is an inflammation of the sheath of the sensitive sciatic nerve, and the pain it produces is intense because the nerve is directly affected. To reach the seat of the trouble, reach the sciatic nerve.

There is one method, and only one, that goes directly to the cause of this trouble. That method is Chiropractic. The spinal adjustments given by the chiropractor remove irritation from the nerve and permit Nature to restore a normal condition.

Why dally and delay with indirect, ineffective remedies?

JOHN L. MacKINNON.

"I suffered with Sciatica for 20 years. All this time I was constantly trying one doctor after another, using vibrations, baths, rubbing and drugs; also went to the Springs, but with little or no relief. Averages in the Major Leagues

Eddie Farrell is the Leading Batter of the Nationals With a Mark of .412—"Bing" Miller Real Leader of Americans With .417.

Chicago, May 28, (AP)—Eddie Farrell, boy shortstop with the New York Giants, has climbed to the front as the leading batter of the National League.

The sensational young collegian, by consistent hitting since the start of the season, today finds himself looking down on some well established sluggers, including the renowned Rogers Hornsby. Farrell has a mark of .412 attained in 32 games in which he made 49 hits for a total of 67 bases, having three homers and nine doubles.

Within a week, Farrell raised his average from .393 as the result of getting seven hits in six games. The figures are based on games including Wednesday and are of players who participated in 25 or more games.

On the heels of the New Yorker is "Pie" Traynor of Pittsburgh, who boosted his average 51 points from .340 to .391 and is ranking next to Farrell. Hornsby, who dropped down a week ago, boosted his mark a point during the week and has .377 for fourth place. George Harper, also of the Giants, is third with .379.

The veteran "Cy" Williams of the Phillies, by clouting three homers, moved to the front as the leading home run hitter with a total of nine. "Hack" Wilson and Earl Webb of the Cubs, with Hornsby, are tied with seven each.

Hazen Cuyler, fleet foot fly chaser of the Pirates is setting a merry pace among the base stealers with 14, a gain of four since a week ago. Frankie Frisch of the Cardinals is his closest rival with 10 thefts.

The Pirates replaced the Giants in team batting with an average of .306, the Giants having dropped to second place with .300, while the Phillies continue to hold down third place with .289.

Other leading batters: P. Waner, Pittsburgh, .360; High, Boston, .343; Wright, Pittsburgh, .341; Frisch, St. Louis, .339; Hafey, St. Louis, .339; Burrus, Boston, .338; Lindstrom, New York, .333; Southworth, St. Louis, .333.

"Bing" Miller Leads.

"Bing" Miller of St. Louis made another threat during the week to cause a lot of American League sluggers plenty of worry. He continued his marvelous socking, bagging seven hits in six games, and really is the leader of the league with an average of .417, although Wallie Schange, a teammate, is two points above him, although he did not appear in any games during the week.

Miller has performed in 32 games, been at bat 96 times and made 40 hits to compile his hefty average. Lou Gehrig, star first baseman with the Yankees, who was leading a week ago, with .425, dropped down to third place along with .408. "Goose" Goslin of the Senators returning to the game after a spell of illness, nosed ahead of Gehrig with .411. Ty Cobb is blazing the trail for the Athletics with .402, giving him fourth place among the leading swatters of the league.

Gehrig is forcing "Babe" Ruth to step a spirited pace to keep out in front in home run hitting. Ruth, by connecting with a pair, has a total of 11, with Gehrig next with ten.

Luzerne "Little Boy" Blue, swiped one base, and tied Goslin and Al Simmons of the Athletics, who failed to add to their totals. The trio is deadlocked with seven a piece.

Ruth is making it hot for Gehrig and his teammate, Earl Combs, to keep pace with him in crossing the plate. The "Big Boy" has scored 36 times, while his two rivals both have crossed the plate 34 times.

There was no change in position among the three leading clubs in team hitting although each suffered a falling off. New York tops the list with .305, Philadelphia is next with .302 and St. Louis third with .299.

Other leading batters:

Simmons, Philadelphia, .395; Meusel, New York, .394; Fothergill, Detroit, .391; Williams, St. Louis, .380; McCurdy, Chicago, .372; L. Sewell, Cleveland, .360; Clancy, Chicago, .355; Sisler, St. Louis, .350; Ruth, New York, .331; Speaker, Washington, .328; Collins, Philadelphia, .309.

K. of C. NINE TO PLAY ONEONTA MONDAY

The local Knights of Columbus team will oppose the Oneonta baseball team at the latter's grounds on Memorial Day. Two games will be played, one at 10:30 a. m. and the other at 3 p. m., standard time. Manager Quinn of the Knights will have an array of pitchers to call upon as Jim Volker, Hank Cragan and Phil Peters will be in readiness to meet the mountaineers. Dick Hinkley will likely do the catching for the Knights. The Knights uniforms have arrived and the team will present a nifty appearance.

Don't brag. It isn't the whistle that pulls the train.

All-Stars Have Two Hard Games

Sunday the Kingston All-Stars will travel to Middletown to play the Hospital Grays of that city. Little has to be said of the Grays as they always have a very good semi-pro club. This season Brown Hunter, of the Middletown Club has secured nearly all his players from Jersey. In previous years the Asylum Club has always played a series with the Colonials. They will also have one shortly this year. It is not known who the pitchers are for Middletown, but they will most likely make the locals step.

Dewey Van Buren, who has twirled the All-Stars to two victories so far this season and no defeats, will have the assignment for tomorrow's game.

On Monday, Decoration Day, the All-Stars will go to Poughkeepsie to play the Beckwiths at Grindle Park. The Beckwith Club has a strong lineup this season with such stars as Phelan, Dahn, Russell and several others.

The local club will use Stoudt, Baker, Williams or Cragan to go on the mound for this game. Anyone of these four are in first-class condition and will give the Poughkeepsie club plenty of trouble.

The bus trips which the locals were going to have for both games has been called off.

Kingston Lost To Port Jervis

Kingston High School's chance to take first place in the DUSO League was lost Friday afternoon at the Fair Grounds when Port Jervis scored five runs for their afternoon's work. Kingston was able to score but one run which they secured in the seventh inning.

Davis, star pitcher of the local school, held the Port men scoreless until the sixth when they got on to his slants. Six errors on the part of Davis's team mates contributed to the downfall of the high school.

McCarthy, who did the mound work for the Port Jervis High School, had plenty on the ball and held the locals to a few hits. His men gave him the best of support when several of the Kingston players leaned on the pill.

Brown scored Kingston's sole run in the seventh when he knocked a fly into left field, which netted him two bases; he reached home plate when Fritz Bruhn sent one into the garden. Bruhn was left on second when the next two Kingston men fanned. Hover reached second in the eighth stanza but McCarthy spoiled the next two batters' chances of reaching first.

Kingston and Port Jervis now occupy even berths, each won 3 and lost 1. If Middletown beats Poughkeepsie there will be three teams on an equal basis. Manager Bill Hutton of the Kingston High School stated that as far as he knew the ties would not be played off but the teams on even rating would each receive a trophy.

HARVARD-CORNELL REGATTA AT SUNBURY

Ithaca, N. Y., May 28 (AP).—With misunderstandings smoothed out for fans and shells and crews ready for the water, Red and Crimson rooters awaited the opening race of the Harvard-Cornell regatta at sundown today. The program held three events, the varsity, junior varsity and an inter-college race.

Coach Ed Brown brought his eight and their shells here yesterday. The men and their equipment immediately occupied the Cornell boathouse and prepared for workouts. Floating Cayuga Lake whipped into combers by a raw north wind, they donned rowing togs and confined their activities to the smooth waters of the sheltered inlet.

There will be several kinds of races, including the sack and potato for which prizes will be awarded. A bicycle race will also be held.

DATES FOR WIGHTMAN CUP TENNIS MATCHES

New York, May 28 (AP).—The Wightman cup tennis matches of 1927, to decide the women's team champion annually contested between the United States and England, will be played at the West Side Tennis Club, Forest Hills, N. Y., on Friday and Saturday, August 12 and 13.

This was announced today by the International Play Committee of the United States Lawn Tennis Association, which pointed out the establishment of a precedent in setting the dates earlier than usual to allow intervention of about a week between the international team matches and the Women's National Championships events. The change was suggested by several of the leading woman players.

Tagging Major League Bases

(By The Associated Press.)

Treating the World Champion St. Louis Cardinals as disrespectfully as they did the New York Giants a few days ago, the Pittsburgh Pirates today had rolled up a winning streak of nine games and a good sized lead in the National League.

The 1925 winners of the world crown threatened to make a clean sweep of their series with the Cards as they did with the Giants, by knocking off the champions by 8 to 7 in a ten-inning set-to yesterday.

When world champions get together good ball games result and this latest meeting between the teams that won the crown in 1925 and 1926 respectively was unusually close and well played. In hitting the Pirates had the edge, 15 to 13, and each team had to send three pitchers to the mound before it was over. The winning hit, a single was made by Joe Bush, the last of the three Pirate burlers, who won his own ball game, 8 to 7, by scoring Harris in the tenth.

Meanwhile the Giants were taking a one-two on the chin from Brooklyn in the shape of a double defeat, 5 to 3 and 5 to 1. In both games Wilbert Robinson had the kind of pitching he has been sighing for. Dazzy Vance pitched the first and Jess Petty the second. Off the silver fox the Giant sluggers could get bus six safeties, while the only ones to hit Vance consistently were Hornsby, who made a homer, and Travis Jackson, now back at shortstop for McGraw after a long lay off following an appendicitis operation.

The Chicago Cubs, who shares the first division with the Pirates, Giants and Cardinals, clung to the heels of the Buccaneers with a 3 to 2 victory over Cincinnati in the eleventh. Again a relief pitcher won his own ball game, Charley Root driving out the double that tallied the wrong run.

Like the Robins, the Boston Braves took two from a team considerably higher above them in the league. The Phillies received the double licking on their home grounds, 8 to 1 and 13 to 5.

In the American League the Chicago White Sox won their fifth consecutive victory by beating the Tigers, 3 to 1, and thereby creeping upon the Yankees. Only 54 points now separate them from the league leaders and the gap has grown smaller day by day. The Yankees bettered their standing not at all by breaking even with the Senators. Herb Pennock met his first defeat of the season when the Yanks dropped the first game, 7 to 2. Lisenbee of the Senators had the better of the duel, holding the Yanks to four hits. Hoyt's three-hit game in the second half of the bill gave the Yanks a 5 to 0 win and the Senators their first shut out of the year. Gehrig brought his home run total to 11, equalling Babe Ruth, his "home run twin."

Cleveland went a step ahead in the standings at the expense of the St. Louis Browns by scoring a 7 to 3 victory on faulty pitching and infield errors.

Annual American Henley Regatta

Philadelphia, May 28 (AP).—College oarsmen from the leading eastern institutions clash on the Schuylkill river today in the annual American Henley regatta.

Featuring the program were the classic Childs' cup and Stewards' cup races. In the former Princeton ruled the favorite over Pennsylvania and Columbia.

Princeton and Pennsylvania each had five crews entered in various events, Columbia four, Navy three and Syracuse, Yale and Harvard two each. In the two events the 150 pound varsity and third varsity eights, Harvard and Princeton, although far apart in the athletic relations, were placed side by side in the draw for position.

CALIFORNIA RIVALS TO FIGHT FOR HONORS.

Philadelphia, May 28 (AP).—With the east's defenses apparently shattered by the preliminary fray, the far west's brawny athletic sons prepared to fight it out among themselves today to see whether Stanford or Southern California would have the distinction of taking intercollegiate A. A. A. A. track and field team championship on its sixth trans-continental journey in seven years.

In spite of prospects of a sensational and possibly record breaking rustle for individual laurels in today's fifteen champion events at Franklin Field, experts conceded the fight for team honors to the two California rivals. Stanford was the favorite on the strength of setting the elimination race yesterday with 14 qualifiers to ten for Southern California, but the Trojans were not expected to yield the title they have held for two successive years without a struggle.

If Kenton, O., Disappears, Suspect Legerdemaniacs!

THE LEGERDEMAINIACS ARRIVE ON THE SCENE!

Magicians, amateur and professional, from all over the world are gathering at Kenton, Ohio, where they'll exchange tricks in secret and astonish natives in public. Above is shown "Colonel Bill" Durbin, Ohio politician and president of the association.

KENTON, O. (I.I.N Special)—Don't be surprised if your family physician, during an examination, should reach into your shirt and pull forth a live, squirming rabbit.

Nor be alarmed if the next Senator you hear speaking throws a rope into the air and has a little boy from the audience climb up.

For dabbling in magic is one of the secret vices of many people off the stage. For some reason it has a peculiar appeal to professional men. Statesmen, doctors, lawyers, ministers and financiers constitute a large part of the membership of the International Brotherhood of Magicians, which meets here shortly.

Magic has its professionals and amateurs as well as sport. Those on the stage—Thurston, Long Tack Sam and the other professionals—are best known, but the amateurs do it if they are the best. The professionals are out to amuse the masses, they say, while the amateurs experiment with disappearances, appearances, sleight-of-hand and other deceiving tricks for art's sake.

Every amateur or professional has his favorite trick. It may be the operation of a mah-jong playing automan or the disappearance of dimes. A great length of time and considerable money is often spent in perfecting these tricks. The late Houdini worked years on a single piece before he had it ready to give to his audiences. Hindu fakers, from whom many amateurs have borrowed tricks, only to do them better, spend their entire lives improving a single stunt.

There is one large factory in Southern California devoted to the manufacture of materials for magicians. There, it is said, the first "sawing of a woman in half" trick—a clever device requiring two women supple enough to double up in a casket—was devised. In this factory one may obtain a box from which no less than a thousand articles may be withdrawn, although the box appears empty; spoons from which molten lead may be swallowed; light globes from which pigeons appear, or a befooling contrivance that requires all the space of a stage. Visitors are not allowed in the factory, and employes are sworn to secrecy. Performers from all over the world send there for fresh tricks and equipment built to order.

Much of the wares of the magicians will be shown at the Kenton convention, but no secrets will be told to outsiders. Two auditoriums have been rented in which public performances will be given during the convention.

A host of notables, many anonymously conceal their interest in magic, will attend. Senator Coleman Du Pont, millionaire Delaware Senator, and "Colonel Bill" Durbin, Ohio politician, and president of the association are two of those who will attend who make no secret of the addiction to necromancy.

Highbinders Win Third Series Game

The series between the Highbinders and the Cracker Jacks terminated at Block Park Friday evening when the former aggregation of veteran ball players won their third of a five game schedule, 11-10. The next appearance of the Highbinders, champion vets of the Seventh Ward will be on Tuesday at 6:15 p. m. when they will meet the Men's Club of Esopus.

Things went well until the seventh inning and both teams played in a manner which indicated the game might be awarded to either. Then Alex Ostrander was relieved by Bill Joy, which proved a fatal change for the Cracker Jacks. Joy walked four men and forced a run. Bill Cannon of the Highbinders solved one of Joy's slants for a two base hit with the bases loaded. The seventh proved the turning point of the game with all favor for the Highbinders. In the first inning the Jacks looked good when they crossed the platter six times.

The Rondout A. C. will oppose the Whirlwinds at Block Park Sunday afternoon at 3 p. m. The Blue Sox were scheduled to meet the Rondouts but the engagement with them has been postponed until a later date. Manager Artie Golnick of the Seventh Ward club will send either Doyle or Peters to the mound to oppose the Whirlwinds. Dick Hinkley will do the receiving. Connelly and Shekel will form the battery for the Whirlwinds.

Colonials All Set for Holiday Games

Ferdie Allen Secured to Strengthen Outfield and Johnny McMara the Pitching Staff—Philadelphia Giants Here Sunday and Ewing's All-Stars Monday.

With one more former Colonial imported from New York to strengthen the Colonial forces, Managers Bud Culloton and Jack Robins are well prepared for their first big holiday campaign of the season as their charges oppose the Philadelphia Colored Giants and Buck Ewing's All-Stars Sunday and Monday. Ferdie Allen will be in left field as the Kingstonians oppose the Philly team Sunday afternoon and Johnny McMara will be pitching. Allen will also be on hand for the double bill with Buck Ewing's warriors Decoration Day afternoon. Monday afternoon the first game will be staged at 2 o'clock with the second match starting fifteen minutes or so after the finish of the first.

Ferdie Allen, who is employed by a bank in New York city, has been desirous to sign up with the Colonials again this year. As Robins needed an extra man over the holiday campaign he wired Ferdie to report for Sunday's match. Arrangements will also be made, if possible, to have Allen on hand for other games throughout the season. Bill Shay, who is being supplanted by Ferdie in the outer garden, will be shifted to some other position. As Robins says, "Bill is too good a man to lose."

The Philadelphia team is one of the fastest colored clubs in that area and brings to Kingston several players who have created great reputation on the diamond. Manager White's No. 1 pitcher will no doubt do the twirling against the locals. This man, Jackman, appears to be the ace of White's pitching array and works on all big occasions.

Buck Ewing's All-Stars will be well received at the Fair Grounds Monday for the Ewingmen are most all old Chappie Johnson players who have battled against the Colonials in many an exciting contest. This will be the first appearance of Chappie's old troupe in Kingston under the leadership of Ewing.

Maury McDermott and Bud Culloton will work on the mound against the Ewingmen with Art Smith ready to relieve either if the All-Stars should become unusually boisterous with their war clubs.

It's becoming harder and harder for girls to get by with stockings that are not silk all the way up.

Circus Makes 300 Children Happy

s and Girls Whose Parents Could ot Afford to Send Them and Industrial Home Children Guests f Sparks' Circus Management.

While a large and appreciative dience thoroughly enjoyed the ernoon performance of Sparks' rcus on the Kingston Fair Grounds Friday afternoon, there were ne 300 children and a few grown- n who were having a particularly ful time as guests of the circus nagement under chaperonage of ngston Lodge of Elks. The circus nagement had invited the children d matrons of the Industrial Home, d such other boys and girls under years of age whose parents uld not afford to send them to the us, to go to the circus as their sts.

In ample time, a bus brought the dustrial Home children and trons and four members of the me board of managers—Mrs. llip Elting, Mrs. Seth Staples, Mrs. m W. Eckert and Mrs. Sam M. rris—to the Elks' Home on Fair eet, where the other children from public and parochial schools also sembled. Each child was presented th an American flag and a large k of peanuts. The group from the dustrial Home went to the circus ounds in the bus, while the other ys and girls with their escort of e Elks' Club—Exalted Ruler Wil- m. F. Edelmuth, Secretary Charles Mullen, N. D. J. Murphy, Henry rstein, George Van Anden and ha L O'Shea, Mayor Dempsey and me teachers—marched to the ounds with flags flying. It was a ty pretty sight, for there was a ply grin on every youthful face.

A block of seats had been set aside r the 300 children, and from the nute the youngsters were seated, til the last of the group left the nts, there were continued "Ohs" d "Ahs" and squeals of delight and outs of laughter over the clowns, d gasps of near-fear and wonder er many of the special features.

The last feature on the program s the forming of the Stars and npes by horsemen and women on rses caparisoned with white stars the blue ground and others with d or white covers, while the out- andings, people in the American ars—the French and Indian with al Indian chieftans, the Revolution presented by George Washington d Betsy Ross with the flag; the il War by Generals Grant and e, the Spanish-American War, by eodore Roosevelt and Rough iders; the World War by soldiers d sailors and Red Cross nurses— re also grouped in the historic and triotic picture which called forth stinted applause. In response and show their youthful patriotism the 0 children all waved their flags, s completing a very pretty picture.

All of the children were safely re- rned to the Elks' Home from ere they went to their own homes, ile the Industrial Home group re taken to their destination in os furnished by members of the s' Clubs.

Frugality and Liberality

Frugality is good if liberality be joined with it, wrote William Penn. The first is leaving off superfluous expenses; the last is bestowing them to the benefit of others that need. The first without the last begets covetousness; the last without the first begets prodigality.

Financial and Commercial

New York, May 28 (AP).—With a two day recess pending, traders were disposed to lighten commitments at favorable opportunities in the stock market today, but the list revealed but few spots and rose generally in a brisk manner under the impetus of urgent short selling and aggressive pool operations.

While there were no new developments over night regarding rumored competitive buying of railroad shares, the heavy absorption of particular issues continued notably Reading, Wabash and Chicago and Eastern Illinois. The first name sold above 121 to a new high record. Eastern stocks as a group, made the best showing, a new high also being recorded by Jersey Central after climbing eight points to 322.

Denials of competitive purchases of coal mining shares, which had a noticeable advance yesterday, brought about considerable realizing and short selling, which depressed Pennsylvania coal and coke five points and Pittsburgh Coal nearly 3. Unfavorable business conditions were cited as reasons for liquidation in American Woolen preferred, which dropped to 47, a new minimum for the year.

The closing was firm. Total sales approximated 1,200,000 shares.

Saluting Old Glory

Veterans of the Civil War are rapidly passing out of the scene and few of them are able to carry the Stars and Stripes in Memorial Day parades. They do so whenever they can and furnish an inspiration for the boys of today who look with gratitude upon them as they salute Old Glory.

IN MEMORIAM

Thousands of men who died in France will be honored again on Memorial Day. Many mothers have traveled there for the purpose of adorning a son's grave with flowers.

Local Death Record

Byron C. Todd, a resident of this city for the past two years, died today at his residence, 438 Albany avenue. The time for services which will be held in Brooklyn has not yet been fixed. Interment in Calvary Cemetery, Brooklyn.

The funeral of Mary Rios, three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Rios of John street, East Kingston, was held Friday at 9 a. m. from the home of her parents and at 9:30 at St. Colman's Church, East Kingston, where a requiem Mass was offered for the repose of her soul by the pastor, the Rev. Thomas F. Larkin. Six little playmates of the deceased acted as bearers.

Rosetta Catherine Shortt, wife of Robert Denhardt, died at her residence in Hurley Friday evening. Funeral Tuesday at 9:30 a. m., daylight saving time. Interment in Mount Hope Cemetery, Hastings, N. Y. Besides her husband and mother, Mrs. Catherine M. Shortt of Hurley, she is survived by three brothers, Adolph of Saranac Lake, John of Flushing, L. I., and Richard of Saugerties, and one sister, Jennie, wife of L. Schoemer, of Brooklyn.

The funeral of Martin J. Brennan was held this morning from the home of his sister, Mrs. Robert Boyle, 609 Delaware avenue, at 9 o'clock and at St. Mary's Church at 9:30, where a high Mass of requiem was offered for the repose of his soul by the Rev. COTTEKILL.

Cottekill, May 28.—Mr. and Mrs. Abner Gillespie and Mrs. Charles Sigmor spent the week end at Philadelphia with Floyd Gillespie.

Mr. Hamelton, who has been ill, is very much better.

Mrs. Burtram Rosa of this place is expected home this week from the Kingston City Hospital. All are glad to have her return much improved.

Mrs. J. Phillips is spending some time with her sister, Mrs. R. Hines, at Stone Ridge.

Rheumatics and the Mind

Rheumatism is due to excess uric acid in the system, and tests have proved that the acid is formed in large quantities by the cynically minded, and hardly at all by the kindly minded. That is not to say that all sufferers from rheumatism are bitter cynics, for exposure to damp will produce the disease. But for every twelve cases of "damp" rheumatism there are eighteen of the other sort.—Exchange.

Society Notes

Ellenville, May 28.—Mr. and Mrs. William A. Hasbrouck have announced the marriage of their daughter, Evadne Carbine, to James Leslie Shurter, on Tuesday, May 24, in New York city. After a wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Shurter will reside in Poughkeepsie.

Reception to New Rector.

The beautiful home of Mrs. Williams Carter on Albany avenue was the scene on Friday evening of a most enjoyable reception given by the church wardens and vestrymen of St. John's Episcopal Church in honor of the new rector of the church and his wife, the Rev. and Mrs. Poyntell Kemper. There was a very large attendance of the parishioners who extended greetings to Mr. and Mrs. Kemper. During the evening coffee and sandwiches, ice cream and cake were served, the beautifully appointed tea table with its exquisite decorations of lilies-of-the-valley being presided over by Mrs. George DuBois and Mrs. Frederick Warren.

Hatch-van den Berg.

Miss Clare Janet van den Berg, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Lawrence H. van den Berg of New Paltz, and Hazen J. Hatch, son of J. M. Hatch of Marshall, Michigan, were married Tuesday afternoon, May 24, at the Lake Mohonk House in the presence of one hundred guests. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Edwin D. Miner, pastor-elect of the New Paltz Reformed Church. The bride was gowned in white chantilly lace over ivory satin, with a train of ivory satin and a tulle veil which was arranged from a tight cap effect of pearls. Her bouquet was of white roses and lilies of the valley. She was given in marriage by her father. She was attended by her sister, Miss Dora van den Berg, who was gowned in pink satin in period style and wore a large hat of pink and orchid. Her bouquet was of pink and lavender peas. The best man was Willis Hillabrant of Marshall, Michigan, and the ushers were Louis and Theodore Clapp, Lewis Woolsey and Edward Barnes. Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Mohonk parlors. Mr and Mrs Hatch remained at Lake Mohonk until today when they left to motor through Canada to Michigan where they will reside. Mr. Hatch is a graduate of the University of Michigan where he is stuyding law.

No Watch Perfect

The bureau of standards says it is a well-known fact that it is impossible to secure a perfect adjustment of a watch—that is, to eliminate all variations in the watch's rate. It is, in fact, impossible to secure perfection of rate in any respect owing to the interrelation of the various adjustments and to certain factors which prevent the securing of ideal uniformity of rates.

Decorate Graves On Memorial Day

The graves of the soldiers and sailors will be decorated with flowers on Memorial Day morning by school children of the city, and exercises will be held in Montrepose cemetery and Wiltwyck cemetery in accordance with the plans of the Pratt Post Memorial Day Association, which was published in The Freeman several days ago.

Sunday afternoon the exercises of strewing flowers on the waters of the Husdon river in memory of the heroes who lost their lives at sea will be held at Kingston Point Park.

Holiday Rush Begins.

Owing to the ideal weather conditions today the holiday rush to the mountains was on in earnest at an early hour. Auto traffic over the Rondout Creek Bridge and through the city was extremely heavy. The incoming trains brought large crowds of holiday merrimakers, the ferry Transport carried many automobilists and the Day Line steamers carried a large number of passengers.

All of the theatres will have special programs on Memorial Day, and there will be some fast fall playing staged at the Fair Grounds Monday afternoon.

Wedding Presents More Precious and Endearing with each passing year.

Let's skip a handful of years, and ask the young matron to list her wedding gifts. First to mind comes the tokens thoughtfully selected at the jewelry store. So frequently used. So pridefully displayed. No one could possibly overlook them. Other and perhaps more costly gifts are forgotten or dimly remembered, but jeweled possessions, enriched with constant association become more precious with each passing year.

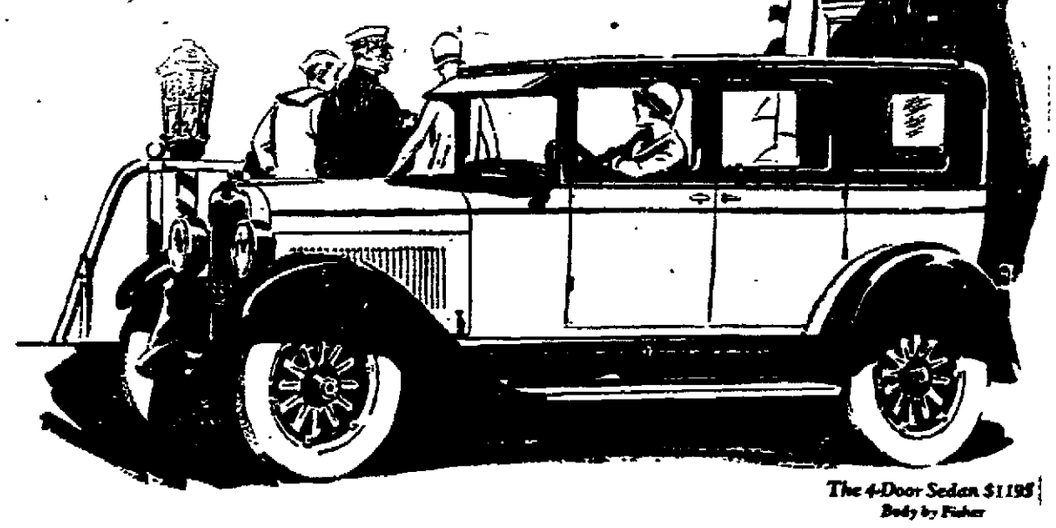
"no other sedan provides so much quality at so low a price"



The 4-Door Sedan $1195
Body by Fisher

You can go over the fine car market with a fine-toothed comb—and you will not discover another automobile which offers all the advantages of the Oakland 4-door Sedan at anywhere near $1195. Other manufacturers in Oakland's price class offer broughams, coupes, roadsters and touring cars at this figure—but none offers a 4-door sedan!

Every demand for comfort, smoothness and luxury is satisfied in this value leader of the Oakland line. The body in Cobalt Blue Duco bears the Fisher nameplate. The powerful, economical six-cylinder engine has all the freedom from vibration which caused the Harmonic Balancer to be so widely adopted. The chassis has all those progressive features which created the Oakland reputation for advanced engineering—balanced revolving parts from crankshaft to rear axle; an oiling system which, at 35 m. p. h., forces over 100 gallons of oil an hour through moving engine parts; tilting-beam headlights with foot control, and others equally important.

Come in! See and drive this widely preferred four-door enclosed car! Here is value that challenges comparison on any basis—for no other sedan provides so much quality at so low a price!

Oakland Six, $1025 to $1295. The New and Finer Pontiac Six, $775 to $975. All prices at factory. Delivered prices include minimum handling charges. Easy to pay on the General Motors Time Payment Plan.
